

Board index <./index.php> \ Marvin, the Paranoid Android <./viewforum.php?f=60> \ Software <./viewforum.php?f=61>

Problem installing to folder on desktop on Win11/64 laptop but solved <./viewtopic.php?f=61&t=92199>

First post, by Harry Potter

Posted on 2023-01-19, 21:25 .<./viewtopic.php?p=1133885#p1133885>

Hi! Earlier today, I tried installing DataEase 4.5 onto a folder on the desktop through DOSBox-X and got an error crating a folder. I had similar problems with other applications when I tried to install them on the desktop. I then tried to install DataEase on a RAM drive, and it worked. 😊 If you have problems installing to the desktop on recent Windows systems, try an unprotected folder, a RAM drive or removable media.

Reply 1 of 1, by DosFreak

Posted on 2023-01-19, 21:34 .<./viewtopic.php?p=1133889#p1133889>

Closed.

This forum is for "Getting old software/games running on older hardware."

Also DOSBox-X issues go here: <https://github.com/joncampbell123/dosbox-x/issues> <https://github.com/joncampbell123/dosbox-x/issues>

VOGONS site design is distributed under a CC BY-NC license <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/4.0/>. User-generated content is distributed under our open content policy </licenses>. © 2002–2023 vogons.org.